First Expedition Of Season

TRENTON LIMESTONE.

Many Members Of R.V.C.
Accompanied Men Of Arts and Science

Since Wednesday last many enthusiastic geologists had been looking forward to Saturday morning when the first field work excursion of the class for the year was due to take place.

The air was wet and misty but nine o'clock beheld a band of students, armed against the forces of nature with hammers and raincoats, standing on the corner of St. Denis and DeFleurmont Ave.

On the arrival of Dr. Bancroft, the party set out along DeFleurmont Ave. towards the Mile End limestone quarries, where the morning was to be spent, looking for small shells with Russian names—as one of the miners put it.

On arriving at the quarries, Dr. Bancroft lectured on the nature and formation of sedimentary rocks. Afterwards everybody went down to the level floor of the quarry where the rock was bare, and a better view of a section of the horizontal beds might be obtained. Here also all had the opportunity of examining the fossils as they occur in the limestone. About this time the party was joined by demonstrator Graham Stansfield. The rock found in these quarries is Trenton limestone, so called because it was first discovered at Trenton, N.J., the beds covering a large part of the valleys of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers.

Trenton limestone is made up of the shells of small sea animals that lived in the waters once covering this great area. The shells or skeletons of these animals were much in evidence in the rock and all began work in an endeavor to extract them.

These limestone beds are broken through by dykes of igneous rock and in places, are separated by sheets of the same material. The dykes and sheets were formed by molten rock, coming up from the hot interior of the earth, filling cracks to form dykes and forcing apart the beds of limestone producing sheets. All this happened ages ago when Mt. Royal was a great volcano and still in an active stage.

From this quarry the would be prospectors proceeded to the limestone beds at Rosemount where other interesting fossils were extracted.

One of the unfortunate incidents in connection with Saturday's game was the delay in securing tickets for admission. Apparently a great number of people were of the opinion that everybody would be admitted free and consequently did not purchase seats in advance. This opinion was due, no doubt to the fact that during the last few years no fee has been charged for any out-door athletic events.

As it was a long line of people, three deep, were forced to stand out-side and await their turn at the wicket. Many people were unable to see the beginning of the game, and others impatient at the delay, left.

This unfortunate occurrence was not unforeseen by the Students' Council and during the week every effort was made in the way of securing carpenters to construct a number of ticket booths, as well as several means of admittance. However, because of the great demand for labor at the present time, the job was not done.

Those who come out to the game with Ottawa on Monday next need not fear the repetition of any such occurrence as men are now at work constructing new ticket offices and cutting more entrance gates. The Pine Avenue entrance will be open exclusively for automobile parties while the

GOOD NUMBER GATHERED FOR INITIAL SING

Many New Men Were Present.

H. NICHOL, PIANIST.

Old Familiar Hymns Have Lost None of Popularity

The first sing of the season was held last evening when about forty men in spite of the inclemency of the weather, gathered around a hearth in the reading room of the Hall. The majority of the men were of the freshmen year and for them it was a new experience however all seemed to enjoy the hour's singing and on leaving many promised to return on the next occasion.

The men gathered in early and quite a few minutes were spent in getting acquainted and chatting over college news. At 9:00 sharp the singing commenced with H. Nichol at the piano. The first hymn to be sung was "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me" which was followed by "Blessed be the Tie that Binds" and "Abide with me". After these a number were chosen which were special favorites of those present and which were naturally sung with a great deal of gusto.

At 9:30 a halt was called in order to allow the men a few minutes in which to regain their breath. These were profitably spent in discussing other sections. After a number of these were sung the meeting was terminated by the singing of "Hail Alma Mater" and the National Anthem.

It has been decided by the executive to hold these Sunday evening Sings regularly each week during the Autumn and winter and no doubt they will receive the support of a good number of college men, who wish to spend Sunday evenings in a profitable manner. An added attraction will be a number of "mixed" sings to be given from time to time, the dates of which have not yet been definitely determined.

R.V.C. NOTES

UNDERGRADUATES.

Don't forget the undergraduate meeting at 1 o'clock to-day. Many subjects of importance are to be discussed and there should be a full attendance.

WILL NOT TOUR U.S.A.

The Prince of Wales, who is now touring Canada, will come to Washington in about a month for a visit of three days, but will not make a tour of the United States. Mayor Babcock of Pittsburgh has been informed by Chairman Porter of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"I am reliably informed," said Mr. Porter, "that it is the wish of the British Government that the Prince of Wales, upon leaving Canada, should spend but three days in Washington, returning to New York thereafter, whence he sails for Europe, and that a tour of the United States should not be made."

five booths and an equal number of gates on University Street will look after the rest of the crowd. In addition a new cinder path from Pine Ave. up University is almost completed, which will lead directly into the grounds.

ROOTERS CLUB WILL MEET IN STRATH. HALL

5.10 To-Morrow Time Set
For Initial Practice.

BRING A PAL.

Every Student Is Expected To Turn Out and Cheer.

The Rooters' Club which has in the past been an important adjunct to the various teams about college has been reorganized, under the leadership of Archie Jenks, Dentistry '20. This club made its initial appearance at the game with the "Old Boys" last Saturday afternoon, and though its work was very satisfactory, there is much room for improvement.

A Rooters' Club is almost indispensable to a team. It imbues the players with confidence and determination to do their best. They realize that they have the mass behind them, that their winning or losing is not only a personal matter, and of little importance, but that it is something in which the whole University is concerned. The sound of hundreds of voices urging them on is sufficient stimulant to make them do their best, not only if they are in the lead but even if they are behind. On more than one occasion the losing team has been urged to make one great effort and to gain the lead by proper support, and, once having forged ahead, the continual cheering has helped them hold the lead and win the game.

In the past few years the appearance of the students, en masse, at the hockey games, in which the college team has played, aided materially in winning many of them. The enthusiasm that had been aroused in players and supporters found its vent in the steady hard effort to win.

As a means of arousing in players and supporters found its vent in the steady hard effort to win.

As a means of arousing a proper college spirit a Rooters' Club has no superior. The fact alone of getting out and meeting your classmate, faculty mate and college mate makes one realize how much one has in common. The first meeting of the club, will be held in Strathcona Hall to-morrow at 5.00 p.m. This time does not mean ten or fifteen minutes later, because the practice will begin well by being at the exact time indicated. Leader Jenks has issued a statement to the effect that the meeting will be "short and snappy". All the students at the University are expected to turn out, so as to make this practice a great success. Don't come alone but bring along a pal, because the material effect of proper rooting is proportional to the number engaged.

The Rooters' Club will take its first organized appearance at the game, which is to be played with Ottawa on next Tuesday afternoon. This game is sure to be hotly contested and it may be that the proper cheering will furnish the balance in the pan, and decide things in the favor of Old McGill.

CONSERVATORIUM CONCERT DEC. 11

Staff Recital Will be Held in R.V.C. on October 23

Following the policy of previous years three orchestral concerts will be given during the winter in the Royal Victoria College Hall by the McGill Conservatorium of Music Orchestra. Last year however foreseeing the difficulty of providing sufficient on the free invitation system for all those wishing to attend these concerts, a small charge was made, from the proceeds of which a cheque was sent to the Khaki Club. This winter the same plan will prevail, and two seats for each of the three concerts will be at the disposal of any one subscribing $3.20. Subscribers will also receive tickets for the Staff Recital which will take place in the Royal Victoria College Hall on Thursday evening October 23rd, at 8.30 when Mr. Hungerford, Edith Johnson and Mr. Eddie Katz Mr. Brant, Mr. Haigh Jackson, Miss will contribute to the programme.

The first of the three Orchestral Concerts is announced for Thursday December 11th, when the chief orchestral items will be Schumann's Symphony in B flat, Tschaikevsky's Danse Cosaque and a Suite by Cole-ridge Taylor.

Intending subscribers are asked to send their subscriptions at once to the secretary of McGill Conservatorium of Music, so that invitations for the forthcoming Staff Recital may be sent to them.

THE MCGILL UNION

That the McGill Union has as yet scarcely fulfilled the function for the fulfilment of which it was established may in considerable measure be due to lack of understanding on the part of the student body as to just what the aim and purpose of the Union is.

The McGill Union, theoretically at least, is the social centre of the University. As such it was erected for, and turned over to, the students who are responsible for its proper administration. Every undergraduate who pays the Universal Fee becomes automatically a member of the McGill Union and is entitled to all its privileges. The Union should therefore be the common meeting ground for students of all faculties. It is maintained for the sole purpose of providing a centre at which students may congregate, cultivate the acquaintance of their fellows and benefit by the social intercourse which should constitute an important aspect of a college career.

It is most unfortunate that there has been a tendency for undergraduates to form themselves into cliques or more or less exclusive groups. Quite apart from the restrictions which such a practice imposes upon university activities, both social and athletic, it is most unfortunate from the point of view of individual self-betterment.

The man who sees in education merely academic accomplishment or the acquisition of learning in its narrow sense is blind to one of very elements of culture and education—that accruing from freedom of social intercourse with his fellows.

The Union offers every facility for the formation of acquaintanceships such as will be of lasting benefit, and after all education essence involves a close knowledge of human nature.

Engines Require Proper Attention To Get The Best Service And Satisfaction

An auto is as good as its engine—no better and no worse. The finish of the car may be superb but if the engine refuses to give a reliable service the auto is a failure for pleasure or for business. At all seasons the motive machinery requires careful attention but more so in the cold wet weather of fall and winter comes. Lubrication, whether by oil or grease, is intended to keep moving surfaces separated so that actual contact of the metals is prevented as far as possible. If it were possible to maintain absolute separation at all times there would be practically no wear. This, however, is not possible, and even under the best of conditions a certain amount of rubbing contact occurs, with consequent wear.

There is no such thing as an absolutely smooth surface. Under the microscope the most highly finished surface it is possible to produce shows a minute roughness, and the rubbing together of two surfaces results in the tearing off of the little high spots. The particles of metal mingle with the oil and in time cause it to deteriorate, even if no other foreign matter gets in.

upon the lubricant to be used, and in practically all cases manufacturers go to a great deal of trouble to determine what is best. It is always wise and safe to use the lubricant recommended by the manufacturer. The large manufacturers of lubricants in many cases have made exhaustive tests and specify the lubricants to be used for various parts of practically all the cars on the market. The charts issued by these concerns are reliable guides to proper lubricants. Under no circumstances must any oil except especially prepared oil be used for the engine. The high temperature quickly makes any other oil useless, no matter how excellent the oil may be for other purposes.

Under normal temperatures the oil in the engine becomes much thinner than when cold. This is the reason why an engine may be stiff and hard to turn over when thoroughly chilled, though it will move freely when warmed up. If the oil is too light when cold it will become so thin when hot that it will fail to separate the moving surfaces—in other words, it loses its lubricating value.

Why the Engine Smokes.

A smoky exhaust is due to the presence above the piston of an excess of oil, which makes a bluish or gray smoke. Too much gasoline in the mixture makes a black smoke. The two smokes are readily distinguished, both by sight and smell. Smoke from lubricating oil is due to:—
An over-supply of oil.
The use of the wrong kind of oil.
Wear of pistons, of cylinder walls, or both.
Broken, defective or inefficient piston rings.
To stop the trouble see that the supply of oil is right. In practically all cases this is made a simple matter. Oil gauges are fitted to some engines to show the level, and the instruction book indicates at what point the indicator should stand. In some cases there is a pet-cock which is left open

METZ CEREMONY WAS IMPRESSIVE

Famous Academy in Lorraine Resumes Sitzings.

In Lorraine the other day the Academy of Metz resumed its sittings; and the official ceremony became the more impressive when the revenue of its capital accumulated since 1870 from the many important donations that began with its founding in the later eighteenth century, was dedicated to rewarding the heroism of many young girls and women in Metz and Lorraine during the war. For the old academy had ceased its sittings when Lorraine passed under German dominion, and resumed them only when Lorraine again became French. The correspondent does not exaggerate when he says that the re-opening "gave a touching and significant proof of the faithfulness of Lorraine to the most ancient traditions of French culture." In its earlier days the Academy of Metz was one of the most celebrated of the French provincial academies, and it will undoubtedly resume the position that was once recognized by the title "L'utile." The word "utile" sums up its idea, for its earlier programme contributed to the study of land culture, improved the navigation of the Moselle, corresponded with foreign countries, created free technical and industrial classes, and stood, in short, for whatever its members might find to do to advance the practical educational life of the Province. After 1870 many of the members left Metz and were welcomed by other institutions; and for 47 years the old academy remained quiescent under the vigilant watch of German officials waiting for the day when it could—should once more be French.

when the oil reservoir is filled, and when oil runs out of the cock the filling should be stopped. Simply make sure that you are using the right quantity of oil.

Using the right kind of oil is a matter of knowing what you should have and getting it.

This does not mean necessarily that only one brand of oil should be used. There are many good brands on the market. If you cannot get the brand recommended by the maker of your engine, find out what oil of the brand you can get is recommended by the oil manufacturer for your particular type.

If there is considerable water the churning of the connecting-rods may cause it to form a sort of emulsion with the oil. This is a thick mixture which may prevent the pump from working. Or the water may freeze where it collects in the bottom of the reservoir, and thus block the pump. For these reasons it is well to change oil often in winter than in summer. If the engine is frequently warmed up and cooled down, the condensation of moisture will be greater than for the same mileage in a continuous run.

Water, being heavier than oil, tends to sink to the bottom and will do so unless made to mix with the oil by the churning of the rods, as described. As the pump draws from low down in the reservoir, it is likely to get charged with water, and this may freeze in the pump and cause it to smash when the engine is next started up. Drain the oil frequently in winter, and drain it when the engine is hot.

MADE IN CANADA

Under the heading, "Labor's Obligation in the Present Crisis," the Canadian Labor Press for August reviews the present industrial situation and makes a strong plea for the purchase of Made in Canada products. It urges the necessity for increased production and for efficient workmanship and contends that labor must repudiate the leadership of extreme elements.

"The reception of the report of the Industrial Relations Commission," the Labor Press says, "seems to prove that the sentiment of the country is with Labor in its demands for an eight-hour day, collective bargaining, and the right to organize in trade unions. These conditions are admitted in the majority report of the Mathers Commission, but if there are to be legitimate concessions to Labor, both industry and the general public have a right to demand sound economic teaching from Labor leaders. The crying need of Canada today is increased production. Only by the creation of new wealth can the Dominion recover from the strain of five years of war and correct the present economic situation. The democracy which preaches the rights of the individual should also insist upon individual responsibility to the community. It is right that Labor should have a reasonable working day at more than a living wage, that it should have assurance against unemployment, time for recreation, and decent housing conditions. But in return Labor is under obligation to the state to render efficient service, to give its best workmanship, to produce to the maximum, and to employ constitutional methods in the conduct of its particular activities.

"Labor must be divorced from I.W.W. and Bolshevik influences. The leadership of thoughtful workers must be restored. The Trades and Labor Congress to be held in September will be a critical event. In Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Calgary Red influences attempt to dominate the local councils. If such influences control the Trades and Labor Congress, the Government's efforts to create a better understanding and more thorough co-operation between employers and employees through the medium of the Industrial Conference which is promised within the next few weeks, can hardly succeed. Its success depends upon the reasonable attitude of Canadian workers, and if their leaders refuse to participate in such a conference as local councils refused to appear before the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations, harmony cannot be restored in the industrial field and Labor will merit the condemnation of the general public."

COLLEGE SPORT AND ATHLETICS

NEARLY TWO THOUSAND SAW "OLD BOYS" HAND DEFEAT TO COLLEGE FOURTEEN SATURDAY

Montgomery, Seath and Williamson Played For the Veterans and Helped To Win—Two Touchdowns Were Scored By the Old Boys and One By McGill—Laffoley Did Some Good Punting, But McGill Line Proved Weak—Much Hard Work Necessary Before Squad Reaches Inter-Collegiate Standard.

The McGill senior rugby squad had its first test of the season when it met the "Old Boys" in an exhibition match at the stadium on Saturday afternoon, which resulted in a victory for the latter to the tune of 11 to 7. The game showed that steadiness and experience could triumph over speed and youth, for it is in the former qualities that the McGill men were especially deficient. This was largely due, however, to the fact that Seath, Montgomery and Williamson left their team to play with the Old Boys, most of whom are old comrades of theirs from 1914 rugby.

Nearly two thousand turned out to watch the game. A large part of these were students, who under the leadership of Archie Jenks, gave the familiar college yell from time to time. Amongst the spectators could be seen several members of the professoriate, as well as many graduates, a large number of whom had come from out of town points to see the old familiar men in action again.

The "Old Boys," besides being strengthened by the addition of Montgomery, Seath and Williamson, were also helped by Lally. The McGill team was severely handicapped by this, so that in spite of the fact that the veterans, who had very little practice, were not sure of their signals, the college men could make little headway against them. During the game, Shaughnessy made numerous changes in the McGill line-up, so as to give everybody a chance to get some real experience. For the "Old Boys" Seath and Montgomery did consistently good work. Ross Laing made several good runs. Laffoley did some good punting for McGill and Notman made several good runs. Their line, however, seemed unable to hold the veterans, and time and again large holes were torn in it, enabling their opponents to block many kicks and break up their play.

The game started at about 3:30 p.m. with the "Old Boys" kicking off. Almost immediately McGill secured the advantage by an exchange of kicks, in which Gilhooley returned the kick-off and Ross Laing in attempting to return was blocked, in the scramble that followed McGill secured the ball, being now well in the "Old Boys" territory. After going around the side for a gain of several yards, Laffoley opened up the scoring for McGill by kicking the ball behind the veterans' line, thus counting the first point of the game.

Returning the play, the "Old Boys" kicked, but Laffoley returned the ball. Failing to gain their yards on the first two downs, they kicked again. The college men were having the better of the punting, so that on getting possession of the ball, they kicked on their first down. The "Old Boys" again failed to make any gain, punting on their last advantage of the exchange for the students. The veterans then tried to make their yards on bucks, but failed, thus losing the ball to McGill. At this stage, the collegians were holding the opposing team in fine style. Just before the close of the quarter, Notman broke through twice for good gains, but McGill lost the ball on a fumble. The period ended with the ball near the centre of the field, and the score 1-0 for McGill. So far the play was fairly even, with McGill, however, having a slight advantage.

The second quarter opened with the "Old Boys" in possession of the ball. They kicked; Laffoley fumbled and lost the ball to the opposing team. Then followed an inside kick which gave the veterans a slight gain. They continued to gain their yards, so that they were now close to the McGill line. It looked bad for the collegians. On the next down, Geo. Draper broke through for a touch down, this making the first score for the "Old Boys," and putting them well in the lead. He failed to convert it. The score now stood 5-1 for the "Old Boys."

The play was resumed with Wallace kicking off for McGill. It was returned in good style; Wallace went through for a gain of several yards. The "Old Boys" then obtained possession of the ball when McGill punted. They returned the kick and the collegians fumbled, but Anderson managed to fall on the ball, only, however, after losing about fifteen yards. Failing to gain, McGill punted. Following this the "Old Boys" gained several yards on a buck, and then kicked, the students then made a good gain, but lost the ball when Anderson fumbled. The veterans, however, who made a twenty yard run, Laffoley then kicked, and Parkins quickly followed it up, so that the ball was now near the veterans' goal line. The advantageous position that McGill had, however, could not be followed up, as half time was called, and the men proceeded to take a well-earned rest.

The score was now 5-1 for the "Old Boys." So far, the advantage had been with the veterans, who on account of their long experience, always managed to derive the greatest possible from the errors of their faster but inexperienced opponents.

The third period opened with several changes in the McGill line-up. Gilhooley kicked off, but the ball was returned. At this stage, Tommy Hall broke through for a fine end run, that brought the play close to the opponents' line. McGill's chances for a touchdown which now looked bright, were dissipated when they lost the ball. Following this, there was an exchange of kicks that took place at the centre of the field, in which Gilhooley lost the ball; but McGill recovered it. Stuart Forbes failed to give yards. After failing to make any gains, on the first two downs, Laffoley attempted a kick, but "Chuck" Waterous broke through the line and tackled him. It was now the "Old Boys" ball. They kicked, and the collegians in their turn tried to do the same, but it was blocked, and in the ensuing scramble the veterans obtained possession of the ball. At this point the play was well in McGill territory, and to make matters worse, they were penalized ten yards for offside interference, thus bringing the ball close to their line. During this part of the game, the "Old Boys" were having much the better of the play. The McGill line did not seem able to hold their opponents, and in consequence, the veterans broke through time after time to block kicks and stop rushes before they were well started. On the next play they succeeded in bucking the ball over for their second touch down of the game. Draper failed to convert it and score was now 10 to 1 for the "Old Boys."

Several changes were made in the McGill line-up at this point. N. Timmins replaced Ambridge and Anderson kicked off.

In spite of the score being heavily against them, they went at it with such vigour that following an exchange of kicks in which the collegians gained considerable ground, they managed to kick one far over the "Old Boys" line for a rouge, counting one point for them.

Play was resumed with the "Old Boys" in possession of the ball. They punted on the third down. Encouraged by the success that they had just had, the McGill men began to play with

SCORED TOUCHDOWN.

SECOND ROUND IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT GAMES BEGUN

Whole Of First Round Completed on Saturday—Few Victories Through Default—Much Good Material is Out and Lots of Competition For Places On the Collegiate Team is Anticipated—Green, Kearney, O'Halloran and Kruger Are Likely Candidates.

The annual singles tournament of the Tennis Club has been progressing favorably, and so far four games of the second round have been played. Saturday was a very busy day, the two centre courts being continually in use. Widely differing brands of Tennis were played, as can be seen by a study of the results, which are appended.

Three games were won by default, these between Bernard and Wiser, and Ross and McNabb, Wiser and Ross defaulting, while Kramer defaulted to Parker. In the game between Bussiere by 6-and-fenson the first set was won by Bussiere by a score of 6-8. In the two final sets however, Fenson settled down while Bussiere tired, and the former won both by 6-3. The Watson and McTaggart game also furnished excitement. Watson was the first set 6-6, but McTaggart succeeded in winning the two final by the score of 6-1. Kearney and Pratt also played a close game although Kearney won two sets in succession, the score of the second being 10-8. Sherrard won his first set with Betsournay, who came from behind and easily took the two following. Ward won two sets handily from Common.

The first set of the game between Kearney and McTaggart was close. Kearney and McTaggart was close. Kearney winning by 8-6. That between Parker and O'Halloran, however, supplied the excitement in the second round. Parker won the first by the close score of 11-9, but after a hard fight O'Halloran succeeded in taking the two final sets by 6-4. Greene had little difficulty in beating McGreer the score being 6-0 6-1. Hamilton won from DeBerger by 6-1 6-3.

The second round is to be finished by Tuesday night, six games are yet to be played. After the completion of the third round there will be five men left, these will form the nucleus of the inter-collegiate team.

renewed vigour and Anderson gained several yards on a fake kick play that was executed very neatly by Laffoley. Following this, the "Old Boys" were penalized ten yards for off-side interference. On the next play, Baillie recovered the ball after it had been fumbled and made a good run. The McGill men made their yards on three bucks which went through in fine style; they were now working together smoothly, and the ball was only a few yards from their opponents' line. Seeing that the veterans were unable to hold their line, they continued bucking, and on the third down forced the ball over for a touchdown. Laffoley failed to convert the try.

Shortly after play was resumed, following an exchange of kicks, time was called for the end of the third period, with the ball well in the centre of the field.

Score:—"Old Boys" 10. McGill 7.

The fourth quarter opened with the "Old Boys" kicking off. Anderson ran up several yards with the ball before he was tackled. An exchange of kicks followed, after which McGill lost ten yards for offside interference. This brought the ball close to the McGill line, with the "Old Boys" in possession. On the next play, trying an on-side kick, they lost the ball to the students, who made their yards on three consecutive bucks. Shortly afterwards, however, they lost the ball, when the veterans broke through their line on an attempted kick and blocked the ball. The latter kicked, Gilhooley catching the ball near the McGill line. Notman then broke through for a good gain, but the veterans got possession of the ball, when McGill was forced to kick on the third down. Following this, the "Old Boys" made their yards on bucks, but lost the ball when they tried an on-side kick. They again got possession of it, however, when they broke through and blocked the kick that McGill attempted. They were now close to the students' line, and on the next play kicked one over for a rouge, thus scoring another point.

On the resumption of play, the "Old Boys" got the ball when their opponents kicked. They lost it, however, in trying an on-side kick, McGill punted and obtained possession of the ball when the veterans fumbled. Following this, Notman broke through the line for a twenty yard run, and shortly afterwards, time was called, with the ball near the "Old Boys" line.

Final score:—11—7 for "Old Boys".

MANITOBA SHORT OF TEACHERS.

There are 200 schools in Manitoba where there are no teachers to care for the students," declared S. H. Forest, of Souris, Manitoba, who represented the executive of the Manitoba School Trustees Association before the taxation and assessment commission. Mr. Forrest said that the situation grew more serious each year, and the only remedy would be a substantial increase in teachers' salaries. He stated that few teachers in Manitoba were being paid less than $60 a month, but out of this small amount they have to clothe and board themselves. Alderman A. H. Pulford, who was present, characterized the paltry teachers' salaries as a disgrace to the province. Mr. Forrest urged that the various school boards of trustees should be abolished, and the administration of school matters in each municipality vested in a central governing body. A general tax rate should be struck, he said, covering the expense of upkeep of schools in the whole municipality. At present every little rural school district has its own board of three trustees.

Who's Who and Why, 1919-20

A useful reference volume of Canadian biography has just been issued in the form of "Who's Who and Why" for 1919-20. It is edited by B. M. Greene and published by the International Press Limited, of Toronto, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Montreal, New York and London. The volume now exceeds 1,500 pages and is more complete than those which have gone before. The difficulties of getting out such a work are doubtless very great, in many instances individuals are reticent about furnishing the required information, although always the best way to ensure accuracy. The salient facts of a person's life, at least if that person be in public life, are looked upon in all countries as public property and should be found in works of reference. As for heads of large undertakings—commercial, financial, professional, industrial—public convenience and custom ask for similar information, without being thought to intrude on privacy. In the present volume the sketches are concise, informative and for the most part accompanied by very good half tone portraits.

Forthcoming Harper Publications.

Six new books will come from the press of Harper & Brothers within the next two weeks: "Potash and Perilous Game," "The Theatre Through the Stages," by David Belasco; "The Great Door," by Alexander Black; "Artemus Ward," by Don C. Seitz; "Bill Sewall's Story of T. R.," by William Wingate Sewall; "The Young Russian Corps," by Paul Ingolevitch.

Tells Best Way To Wash a Car

Owing to time required for varnish to harden, great care should be exercised in washing a car during the first few months in use.

Before using new sponges and chamols, skins clean them thoroughly with soap and water to remove sand and shells and other foreign matter.

Clean one panel at a time, thoroughly drying before cleaning the next. Never wash the engine hood while hot, and never use hot water on any part of a car.

Mud should never be allowed to dry upon a newly varnished surface. Wash off all mud as soon as possible. Use lots of water to clean your car. A sponge, thoroughly saturated, is much better than a hose. Always have sponge full of clear, fresh water and use no pressure when applying.

Have two sponges, one for body, hood, etc., the other for the running gear. Keep sponge for body away from grease.

In washing running gear only use a soap solution made by dissolving in a pail of water sufficient soap to make a good suds. Sop onto car with sponge. Rinse immediately with clear water.

If necessary to use soap on body, use only pure soap, such as imported castile, or the very best oil soap made for use on automobiles. There must be no free alkali or acids in the soap, as these will eat the surface of the varnish.

NEEDLESS IMPORTS

In a special appeal for the purchase of Made in Canada products and development of the home market the Western Committee of the Canadian Reconstruction Association gives a long list of commodities imported into Canada during the last fiscal year which, if manufactured at home, would have given employment to over 100,000 persons with an additional payroll of nearly $100,000,000. The Association admits that its estimates are in the nature of rough computation based on 1917 Government figures showing that 692,071 persons were employed in Canadian industries with a payroll of $332,990,000. It states that some of the items in its list could not be made economically in Canada at the present stage in the country's development, but it contends that there are many articles of wearing apparel imported into Canada and purchased wholly or chiefly by women, that could be manufactured at home, thus providing millions of dollars for Canadian industries and employment at good wages for thousands of Canadian workers.

CHICAGO SEVEN-CENT FARE ORDER.

The seven-cent fare for the Chicago surface car lines was held to be illegal by Judge E. S. Smith in the Saginaw County Court. The Court held that the Illinois State Railway Commission, when it granted a seven-cent fare, acted with undue haste in refusing to allow the city to introduce evidence on the value of the surface line holdings. The traction company will take an appeal to the Supreme Court. The fare before the rise was five cents.

JAPAN COMPETITOR

With Japan rapidly developing as a manufacturing country and with competition from Japanese manufacturers active in many commodities which are now made in Canada and inevitable in many commodities which will be made eventually in the Dominion, it is pertinent to consider the wages paid to Japanese workers. As an indication of how low such wages are compared with those paid to workers in this country, the Eighteenth Financial and Economic Annual of Japan for 1918, prepared by the Japanese Department of Finance and printed at the Government Printing Office in Tokyo, gives the average daily wage paid to Japanese pottery workers, both men and women, at 24 cents for an 11½ hour day. The average wage paid to American porcelain manufacturers is 34 for an eight hour day.

Timing Factor in Cooling of Engine

Timing has an important bearing on cooling. In hot climates where temperatures are excessive for a considerable part of the year, the engine may be made to run cooler, but at a slight sacrifice of power, by setting the camshaft one tooth ahead (earlier) on the timing gears, so that the exhaust valves open earlier. A weak spark has the same effect as late spark timing, and overheating will result.

Keep Exhaust Free Of All Obstructions

Keep the exhaust clear of obstructions and do not allow mud to cake on the outside of the muffler or to clog the outlet. The radiator must be filled as full as possible. Do not allow the overflow pipe to become clogged or flattened by a blow or kink or slip down in the radiator.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TO END OCT. 26.

General uncertainty as to when the clocks shall be turned back and daylight saving be abolished seems to have resulted from the recent action of Congress in repealing the Daylight Saving Act. In answer to numerous inquiries, officials have pointed out that clocks may not be turned back until the last Sunday of October, or Oct. 26, at 1 a.m.

DAYLIGHT SAVING URGED IN U.S.A.
That it is the duty of all American citizens to appeal to their aldermen to work for the daylight saving bill, since in no other way can their representatives know what they want, was declared by Marcus M. Marks, chairman of the national committee on Daylight Saving, recently.

"Although Americans everywhere have enjoyed the extra hour afforded by daylight saving, I wonder how many of them have compared their lighting bills under the new regime with those of previous summers," said Mr. Marks. "In the majority of cases there has been a saving of 25 per cent over the old system. Over 1,250,000 tons of coal have been saved in this country, according to a statement issued by Dr. Garfield, of the Fuel Administration, and an appreciable increase in farm products has resulted from the longer day. Since adopting it we have conformed with Great Britain and 11 European countries who began it before we did."

"The cities all want daylight saving and they will follow New York's lead in the matter. If New Yorkers make their aldermen know their wishes on the subject, it is bound to come. The middle west and west will adopt similar measures, and before next summer a congressional act will have secured it for us."

Thirty-two horses were burned to death through a fire in the stables at the Canadian Camp at Longtown, Cumberland.
